

Embracing the Truth of Your Divinity

Flexibility ~ Expanding Your Awareness

By Jackie Self

Have you Noticed?

The world is changing! Deep seated anger is finding its resolution through Humanity in ways that we could not have ever imagined. We are learning to “speak our truth” and long overdue changes are taking place. We are changing from a society that placed its value in money/power, to a society that places its values in Authenticity/Creativity. We are learning that ALL LIFE matters, and that Honoring and Respecting ourselves is necessary before we can Honor and Respect another without any form of judgment.

Yes... it will take time for this Reality to settle in and for Humanity to truly Believe that money/power does not have to be our driving force. We will understand that we do not need to have more than anyone else. We will understand that everything that we need is readily available to us. And... best of all, we will understand that pain and suffering are no longer needed to resolve unwanted emotions and limiting beliefs or to prove our Existence.

Change is happening behind the scenes, behind what you may see on the media and global networks. Humanity is beginning to take responsibility for its Human form and for the Earth on which we Live.

When we leave our past behind and work in cooperative and collaborative partnerships to promote a Life in which we truly want to live in... Beauty and Creativity will Flow through any challenges we may face.

Be Flexible and Leave the Past Behind

For a very long time Humanity has been exploring, developing, and working with the dynamics of parent/child and/or higher/lower and/or masculine energy dominant relationship roles. These patterns of energy have been deeply organized within our individual energy fields according to personal motivation, purpose, and experience. It is these personal patterns that we are being asked to look at, and discern if they are appropriate for us Now. If they are not creating a Harmonious Existence... wouldn't this be a good time to either release them or adapt them to present a more Enjoyable experience in our lives?

Questions to ask yourself regarding your energetic experience within roles of: parent/child, higher/lower, and masculine energy dominance

How and why have I played these roles?

What have I learned about myself?

How can I change what I see and feel within these roles NOW that would foster a more positive outcome?

Flexibility within our Minds and Hearts is called for NOW to expand Inner and Outer Awareness. Can we allow ourselves to have a new and Joyful thought? Can we allow ourselves to have a new and Joyful feeling?

A willingness to change comes from allowing ourselves the flexibility to accept something new and unknown into our lives. Flexibility will induce your Creative Flow and offer a New Beginning.

May your journey be filled with Flexibility & Expanded Awareness...

We are currently inviting new members. The prerequisite to become a member is to participate in two short FREE online courses that we offer. The first one is Self-Discovery, and the second one is Self-Mastery. We offer these courses as a foundation for Conscious Living. We know that there are many talented and skilled individuals who can synergistically add their expertise to the successful and beneficial outcomes that are possible for others as well as ourselves.

From the common base of Self-Discovery and Self-Mastery we can join together to provide the inspiration, direction, knowledge, wisdom, and more to assist others in transcending any obstacles that they perceived for themselves.

We look forward to hearing from You...
